三、阅读（共两节，满分 35 分）

第一节 阅读理解（共 15 小题；每小题 2 分，共 30 分）

阅读下列短文，从每题所给的 A、B、C 和 D 项中，选出最佳选项，并在答题卡上将该选项涂黑。

(A)

A young man went to the boss of a logging crew(伐木队) and asked for a job.

"That depends," replied the boss. "Let's see you fell this tree."

The young man stepped forward and skillfully felled a big tree.

The boss was amazed and said, "You can start the job on Monday."

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday went by, and Thursday afternoon the boss went to the young man and said, "You can get the pay on your way out today."

The young man was very surprised. He replied, "I thought you would pay on Friday. "

"Usually we do," the boss said. "But we're letting you go today because you've fallen behind. Our daily felling reports show that you've dropped from first place on Monday to last place today."

"But I'm quite hardworking," the young man argued, "I am the first to arrive, and the last to leave, and even work during my coffee breaks!"

The boss thought for a minute and then asked, "Have you sharpened your axe (斧子)?" The young man replied, "No, sir, I've been working too hard to take time for that!"

Our lives are like this. We sometimes get so busy that we don't take time to "sharpen the axe".

There's nothing wrong with working hard. But we all need time to relax, to think, to learn and grow. If we don't take time to relax, we will feel bored and lose our effectiveness.

26. How did the young man get the job?

- A. He answered the boss' questions.
- B. He showed his ability to fell a tree.
- C. He gave the boss a sharp axe.
- D. He made a promise to work hard.

27. The young man got paid a day early because _____.

- A. the boss was happy with him
- B. he wanted to buy a new axe
- C. the boss was asking him to leave
- D. he wanted to take the next day off

28. What does the story tell us?

- A. Where there is a will, there is a way.

- B. Health is the best treasure a man can have.
- C. There's nothing wrong with working hard.
- D. Taking time to "sharpen the axe" can make us more effective.

(B)

Men won the Nobel Prizes in science most of the time in the past. But this year, women became the main characters!

Jennifer Doudna from the US and Emmanuelle Charpentier from France shared the Nobel Prize in Chemistry. It's the first time in history for two women to win the prize without having to share it with a man. At the same time, US astronomer Andrea Ghez became the fourth woman to win a Nobel Prize in Physics, which she shared with two other scientists. Its first female winner was Marie Curie in 1903.

Doudna and Charpentier got the prize because they developed CRISPR/Cas9 genetic scissors, a technology that can rewrite DNA in the cells of plants, animals and micro-organisms. It has had a "great effect on the life sciences," according to the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences. For example, it can help us develop crops that can fight against some natural disasters. It could also help treat some serious diseases in the future.

On hearing that they were the sixth and seventh women to win the Chemistry Prize, Charpentier said that she hopes girls and young female scientists will understand that "nothing is impossible and women can find great discoveries just as men do."

Ghez, who was awarded for her research on black hole, had the same feeling. "I'm happy to be part of the change where more women succeed. I think that's an important way in which we encourage the other girls and women scientists," Ghez said. In addition to her research, she was also one of the authors of the 2006 children's book You Can Be a Woman Astronomer.

29. A pair of women won this year's Nobel Prize in _____.

- A. Chemistry
- B. Astronomy
- C. Physics
- D. Medicine

30. What does Paragraph 3 focus on?

- A. How they did their research.
- B. Why they were given the prize.
- C. What they found in their research.

- D. How winning the prize has made a difference in their lives.
31. What does Ghez think about winning a Nobel Prize?
- A. It will change her life in a big way.
 - B. It proves that nothing is impossible.
 - C. It shows that women are more successful than men.
 - D. It can encourage the other girls and women scientists.
32. What do we know from the story?
- A. There were seven female Nobel Prize winners in total.
 - B. Ghez shared the Nobel Prize in Physics with at least one man.
 - C. More women are working as chemists than astronomers.
 - D. Ghez will write a children's book about winning the prize.

(C)

When is the best time for us to enjoy the bright moon? Of course, it is Mid-Autumn Festival, one of the most important holidays in China. We look at the moon, eat moon cakes, and get together with our families. The tradition is thousands of years old.

The moon, the key part of the festival, is special to most Chinese people. We enjoy and admire it. We use the round moon to describe reunion, that is, get together.

Our respect of the moon dates back to ancient times. There is the legend of Chang'e flying to the moon --- the most famous story about the moon. Many Chinese poets connect the moon with homesickness. For example, "Beside my bed a pool of light. Is it hoarfrost on the ground?" from Jing Ye Si (Thoughts in the Silent Night) by Tang Dynasty poet Li Bai.

Today, the moon is still important to Chinese people. The Miao minority in Guizhou province has a special custom. On the night of Mid-Autumn Festival, young people dance under the moon to find their other half.

However, Western people see the moon differently. In some stories, the full moon is somewhat frightened to people. The most well-known story is the werewolf. A werewolf usually looks like a human, but changes into a wolf-like creature when there is a full moon. Also, if someone is very excited or even crazy about something, others may joke, "It must be a full moon."

33. What's the Chinese meaning of the underlined word "reunion"?
- A. 团结 B. 联合 C. 团聚 D. 合作
34. What does Paragraph 3 try to explain?
- A. When the story of Chang'e started.
- B. Why the moon is special to Chinese people.
- C. How ancient poets described the moon.
- D. What ancient Chinese knew about the moon.
35. When "It must be a full moon" is used to describe a person, the person _____.
- A. likes the moon very much
- B. misses his or her home
- C. is well-known to others
- D. is very excited about something
36. What's the story mainly about?
- A. How Mid-Autumn Festival is celebrated in China.
- B. Different holiday customs in China.
- C. Stories about the full moon in China and Western countries.
- D. How the full moon is understood in China and Western countries.

第二节 阅读填空（共 5 小题，每小题 1 分，共 5 分）

阅读短文及文后 A~E 选项，选出可以填入 61~65 各题空白处的最佳选项，并在答题卡上将该项涂黑。

Teenager Jake Deham was skiing with his family in the US when he fell over and lost one of his skis. 41. They kept on skiing. When they got to the foot of the mountain, there was no sign of Jake.

Jake couldn't find his ski anywhere. In the end, he decided to take off his other ski and walk down the mountain. 42 It was now getting dark and he was a long way from any place of safety. He knew that he might die that night in the cold temperatures. But Jake kept calm. At home, Jake watched a lot of programmes about living in difficult situations. 43 He made a hole so the wind couldn't blow into it. Outside his hole, the temperature fell to a dangerous -15°C that night, but inside it Jake was safe from the cold.

44 "I wanted to live my life." Evening passed, Jake began to think his way out. He had to get down the mountain. The TV programmes always said, "If you are lost, you should find someone else's tracks(足迹) through the snow and follow them." "I wanted to live my life." Remembered Jake. "So I got up and I found some ski tracks and I followed those." He walked and walked and finally saw lights.

45 Jake didn't even have to go to hospital. He got through the terrible experience without any injuries.

So, the next time someone says that watching TV is a waste of time, think of Jake. Sometimes TV can save your life!

- A. He remembered the advice from these programmes and knew that he should build a hole in the snow.
- B. His mum was very happy when she heard his son was saved. Amazingly,
- C. "After the long tracks(足迹) through the snow and follow them."
- D. But he couldn't work out the right way to go.
